

Reprint of the 1936 edition. Oversized octavo. xvii p., 1 l., 444 p. front., plates, facsims. Lafcadio Hearn was born on the Greek Island of Santa Maura. His mother was Maltese and his father a British army surgeon of Anglo-Irish descent. When Hearn was two, his mother left him with an aunt in Dublin, who later sent him to prepare for the priesthood. At 19 he arrived in Cincinnati Ohio where he became a reporter. In 1874 he married a local black girl, resulting in the loss of his job. In 1890 Hearn was commissioned to go to Japan, but lost his job shortly after arriving. For a while he taught English, and eventually married Setsuko Koizumi, whose family adopted him. He changed his name to Yakumo Koizumi and became professor of literature at the Imperial University of Tokyo. During this happy time Hearn composed his best prose-minute examinations of Japan, its people, and its folkways. He has been extremely popular in Japan since. This standard bibliography of Hearn describes. It is by far the most comprehensive Hearn Bibliography cited in Besterman [2816] with 2500 titles described. The annotations are descriptions are quite detailed.
